BLACK WOLF.

Or Black Leprosy is a disease which is considered incurable but it has yielded to the curative properties of SWIFT'S SPECIFIC—now known all over the world as S. S. S. Mrs Bailey of West Somerville, Mass. near Boston, was attacked several years ago with this hideous black eruption, and was treated by the best medical talent who could only say that the disease was a species of and consequently incurable. It is impossible to describe her sufferings. Her body from the crown of her head to the soles of her feet was a mass of decay, masses of flesh rotting off and leaving great cavities. Her fingers festered and three or four nails dropped off at one time. Her limbs contracted by the fearful ulceration and for several years she did not leave her bed. Her weight was reduced from 123 to 60 lbs. Perhaps some faint idea of her condition can be gleaned from the fact that three pounds of Cosmoline or ointment were used per week in dressing her sores. Finally the physicians acknowledged their defeat by this Black Wolf and commended the sufferer to her all wise Creator.

Her husband hearing wonderful reports of the use of SWIFT'S SPECIFIC (S S S) prevailed on her to try it as a last resort. She began its use under protest but soon found that her system was being relieved of the poison as the sores assumed a red and healthy color as though the blood was becoming pure and active. Mrs Bailey continued the S S S until last February every sore was healed, she discarded chair and crutches, and was for the first time in twelve years a well woman. Her husband, Mr C. A. Bailey, is in business at 17½ Blackstone Street, Boston, and will take pleasure in giving the details of this wonderful cure. Send to us for Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free.

The Western Settler's Chosen Specific.
With every advance of emigration into the far West a new demand is created for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Newly peopled regions are frequently less salubrious than older settled localities on account of the miasma which arises from recently cleared land particularly along the banks of rivers that are subject to freshets. The agricultural or mining emigrant soon learns when he does not already know that the Bitters afford the only sure protection against malaria and those disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, to which climate changes, exposure and unaccustomed or unhealthy water or diet subject him. Consequently he places an estimate upon this great specific and preventive commensurate with its intrinsic merits, and is careful to keep on hand a restorative and promoter of health so implicitly to be relied upon in time of need.

An Important Land Decision by Secretary Lamar.

THE WILL OF BEN HOLLADAY JR

Secretary Whitney Gives a Detailed Account of Matters Pertaining to the Navy—Money Panic Criticised

FROM WASHINGTON.

Important Railroad Land Decision by Secretary Lamar

WASHINGTON March 11—Secretary Lamar in the case of Leander Scott vs the Kansas Pacific railway has decided to adhere to the present system of adjusting the limits of land grants to railways and reject the plan proposed by Commissioner Sparks. This decision, in its ramifications and on account of the amount of land involved is thought by some to be the most important ever rendered by the interior department. Had the decision of Commissioner Sparks been approved, the land grant railways of the country would have been deprived of millions of acres of land. The commissioner's plan was in brief, to so adjust land grants as to railways as to give the amount of land to which they would receive on their roads in all cases which have been built, in straight lines. The old system, which was established in 18[illegible], adjusted grants to correspond with the sinuosities of the roads. Senator Dolph is inclined to think that this decision virtually decides the dispute between the Oregon & California railway and the general government as to whether the former or the latter is entitled to a certain large tract of land near Forest Grove. Commissioner Sparks held that the railroad company was not entitled to said tract and that filings under the general land laws by persons settling thereon should be received. It is thought that the secretary's decision will have the effect to restore the land to the railway.

LIFE SAVING MEDALS

Acting Secretary Fairchild has awarded silver life saving medals to Charles Richardson, John Jones, Nicolas Dorle, Peter Nesman, August Betetz and Axel Wickland all members of the lighthouse service for heroic conduct in saving the life of L. I. Christopherson in the Columbia river in October, 1884.

WILL OF BEN HOLLADAY JR

The will of the late Ben Holladay, Jr., was filed here to day. It was dated Washington, January 29, 1885 and is written on a half sheet of note paper, as follows: "This I proclaim to be my last will. I leave and give to Miss E. C. Wardor all personal and real property that I may be found possessed of." The witnesses are B. Harden and M. J. Wardor. T. C. J.

THE NAVAL SECRETS

Secretary Whitney Gives a Detailed Account

WASHINGTON March 11—Secretary Whitney to day furnished a statement touching the method employed by the navy department to procure plans for naval vessels and machinery. In regard to the reported discharge of draughtsman Terry at Chatham dock yard, England he says there is no truth in any statement which connects the navy department with anything clandestine in the way of obtaining plans abroad or secrets of foreign governments. It is the business of every government to know what implements of war are possessed by others, together with their characteristics, and information can be easily obtained if necessary trouble is taken without the necessity of resorting to any questionable methods. Relative to the purchase by the department of designs made by Chief Constructor White of the English admiralty, Secretary Whitney says that White was not chief constructor of the admiralty when the trade was made and the department purchased the designs but was in the employ of Sir William Armstrong. The secretary quotes from Secretary Chandler's annual report of high commendation of the firm. He then proceeds as follows: "After the

CONSTRUCTION OF THE ESMERALDA

They built the Naniwa Kan for the Japanese government, which was an improvement on the Esmeralda and on her trial she was reported to have made nearly nineteen knots, the highest speed then reached by any unarmored cruiser. I decided to purchase the working drawings of the ship and her machinery for the purpose of placing them at the disposal of our naval architects and to see by what method they attained so much greater speed over there than we are able to reach here. While the matter was being negotiated Armstrong & Co through their naval architect, Mr White, made a still later design which is called No 27 and which was offered in competition to the Spanish government from which they guaranteed either 19 or 19½ knots speed. This design was not rejected by the Spanish government, although in competition it did not win. Thompson & Co having agreed to guarantee 20 knots speed upon a boat of larger displacement were given the contract and are now building a boat for the Spanish government. The boat which Thompson proposed to the Spanish was out of the question for the United States because it was too large in tonnage and too expensive to come within the limits fixed by the statutes, and I

SHOULD NOT HAVE BOUGHT

The plans of that boat at the same price and they were offered to us for $50,000 which offer I rejected and preferred the design of Armstrong and Mr White. I finally closed the contract for the plans of the two boats Naniwa Kan and what is known as No 27 for $35,000 less than it would have cost to make them with our men, I think. It was for the purpose of laying before our people the very latest improvement in the way of fast cruisers of a concern supposed to be the best constructors in the world among private ship builders of this class of boats. The machinery of the Naniwa Kan was the design of Hawthornes, and that of No 27 the design of Messrs Humphrys & Tennant recognized as concerns ranking with the highest in England in the way of marine machinery. After these plans had been received here I was frequently applied to by our ship builders to let them have copies. It was the first time that the detailed working drawings had been had as an entire ship and it then occurred to me that it would be an excellent plan to reproduce the machinery of these two vessels in two of the five ships that we were about to build and this course was earnestly urged upon me by ship builders who examined the plans. Letters have been written to me to that effect by Board's expert Mr Barron, by Harlan & Hollingsworth, Cramp & Sons, and the Union Iron works of San Francisco. This was the course finally adopted by me. Many of the arrangements of the ships have been changed conforming them to our types but the machinery will be duplicated in two of those that are now under contract. The effect has been in my judgment to call the attention of our people to the fact

THAT WE HAVE NOT KEPT UP

To a proper standard in the way of the producing power for machinery. In the case of the Boston and Atlanta the guarantee of the contractor is that with [illegible] tons of machinery he will produce 3500 horse power, and the guarantee of the contractor who is producing the Naniwa Kan machinery is that with 710 tons he will produce 7000 horse power, and in the case of cruiser No 2 also foreign machinery, the guarantee is that with 9000 tons good horse power shall be produced. It will be seen that effectiveness of the machinery in producing horse power is nearly twice that required by contract upon the Boston and Atlanta. In these latter cases one ton of machinery is guaranteed to produce a little over five horse power and in cases of cruisers No 2 three tons of machinery is guaranteed to produce nearly ten horse power. All this it will be seen is stimulating to our own people and in the end they will probably succeed in doing as well or better than these results show."

The secretary characterized as ridiculous the idea that the department's advertisements soliciting for submission of designs can be regarded as an attempt to bribe foreign naval officers and on this point he says the advertisement simply copied a statute passed in 188[illegible] which provided that before any of the vessels hereby authorized shall be contracted for or commenced the secretary of the navy shall by proper public advertisement and notice invite all engineers and mechanics of established reputation and all reputable manufacturers of vessels, steam engines, boilers and ordnance having or controlling regular establishments and being engaged in the business, and all officers of the navy, and especially all naval constructors, steam engineers and ordnance officers of the navy, to submit designs. This advertisement was written in the form in which it has always been put on and which the law indicated. It was published in England and France in order to bring it to the attention of the persons referred to by the law as engineers and mechanics of established reputation, and all reputable manufacturers of vessels, steam engines, boilers and so on and had no reference whatever to any naval officers abroad. It would of course have been absurd to publish such a thing if this had been the intention. The advertisement was a copy of one which had been inserted before, and which was in accordance with the statute.'

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

MONEY PANIC CRITICISED

WASHINGTON, March 11—In conversation with an associated press reporter to night as to the possibility of a financial panic resulting from the accumulation of the surplus in the treasury after all payable bonds have been called in, Treasurer Jordan said he saw nothing in the present situation which was at all likely to cause a panic. There was nothing in the situation to create such fear, but should a panic occur, however, Mr Jordan said the government had full power to go into the market and buy bonds in order to relieve the financial strain. Although he could not of course speak for the administration of which he would soon cease to be a member, he had no reason to suppose but that this recourse could be applied as it had been with success on other occasions. The only trouble he apprehended was for the pressure being felt even now and, in his opinion would continue until about the 10th of April. The government was meeting this demand as fast as possible but could never supply it as fully as desirable. At this season of the year there was always a demand for small currency and the treasury was unable to issue silver certificates as fast as called for. This was owing to no want of provision on the part of the treasury department but to the failure of the deficiency bill which appropriated money for the issue of silver certificates. The department had ample facilities but not sufficient money for the purpose. There was no reason for alarm however as it was simply the spring demand for small currency and there were about $4,000,000 of $5 and $10 gold coins in the New York sub treasury alone and about $10,000,000 more of small money available with which to meet any such emergency. The department would supply silver certificates as far as possible and any additional demand would simply cut the difference in cash between transportation of silver certificates and other currency.

LAND GRANT DECISION

WASHINGTON March 11—The secretary of the interior in the case of Leander Scott vs the Kansas Pacific railroad has decided to adhere to the present system of adjusting limits of grants for railroads. This system was established in 18[illegible] and defines the lateral limit of such grants by describing lines from every point of the road as located on the plats of the public survey with a radius length prescribed by the statute. Lines drawn tangent to such arcs will form the limit. This decision rejects the system proposed by the commissioner of the general land office which would determine the limits of the grant by drawing lines of the length prescribed by the statute from every point of the road as located in straight lines to a direct line connecting the terminals of the road. A line drawn through the extremities of such lines would form the limits. This decision is of great importance as it applies to all railroad grants and all grants of like character.

LOW RAILROAD RATES

WASHINGTON March 11—A committee of the Southern passenger agents convention which adjourned here recently, has decided upon rates to the general national drill for all travelers. Under the interstate commerce law it is understood that they cannot make a discrimination in favor of persons, so the committee decided to give the cheap soldier rates to citizen travelers also: three quarters of one cent per mile is the rate fixed for parties of not less than twenty five in one party for short line distances traveled from all points to Washington and return. This rate which applies to citizens and soldiers is the lowest ever given for similar purposes. It is about one half that given to the New Orleans exposition.

SILVER STATEMENT.

WASHINGTON March 11—The circulation of standard silver dollars is now $[illegible] out of a total coinage of $[illegible]. Silver certificates in circulation amount to $12[illegible], deducting standard dollars leaves $2[illegible] net standard dollars in the treasury. Gold coin and bullion in the treasury, less $[illegible] certificates in circulation amount to $175[illegible].

INDIAN AGENT SUSPENDED

WASHINGTON, March 11—James T. David, agent Osage Indians, Indian territory has been suspended by Inspector Bannister and Special Agent White has been temporarily placed in charge of the agency.

RAILROAD NOTES

THE INTERSTATE COMMISSION

NEW YORK March 11—The presidents of trunk lines met this afternoon at Commissioner Fink's office. President Roberts of the Pennsylvania company presided. The passenger agents committee report was adopted with slight amendments. The report of the freight agents committee was approved. It was decided that second class tickets to the West as far as Chicago should be retained and on all other routes second class tickets will be abolished. It was felt that there were many people who lived in cities on the west coast who could not afford to pay first-class rates and were willing to accept inferior accommodation in consideration of reduced fare and that it would be an injustice were cheap rates abolished. Immigrant fares will remain the same as at present for tickets sold in Europe but no restriction will be made on tickets sold on this side. Cheap fares only apply to west bound tickets. The committee's recommendation in regard to excursion tickets already published were approved. Agents commissions will be abolished.

NEW YORK March 11—The Tribune has the following additional points in regard to matters agreed upon by the railroad meeting at Commissioner Fink's office yesterday in relation to the passenger traffic under the interstate law. Mileage tickets are to be abolished, ministers are to be allowed reduced fares, excursion tickets are defined to mean a round trip ticket sold at a reduced rate to a person who under conditions wishes to make a journey to a given point and return. The law is taken to be that all questions of restriction, limitation, place and fare are to be left to the discretion of the railway companies interested respectively. Free baggage is allowed of 150 pounds on each full first or second class ticket, 75 pounds on each half ticket and 100 and 50 pounds respectively on each full and half emigrant ticket. Baggage in excess of these allowances up to an absolute limit of 250 pounds (except ship emigrants) is to be charged not less than 1½ per cent of the lowest unlimited first-class fare. No commercial luggage, musical instruments or lens, pianos, donkeys, horses or theatrical scenery will be transported as baggage. Loads and permits are to be withdrawn from sale. When joint tariffs and through fares are established where two or more connecting roads are concerned the party to the joint tariff cannot make any change except after formal notice to other parties. Differential fares for through and competitive business to be established by consultation and agreement. Under the section referring to long and short hauls we understand that the law deals with fares in the aggregate and that the proportion on a through fare need not control local fares. In the case of greater charges for as short a distance by reason of the competition of water line or otherwise your commission believe they have no right to permit such fares to continue or be made without authorization of the national commission.

Traffic in connection with the Pacific coast routes eastwardly may be taken at 58 per cent of the through rate, as the proportion from Chicago to the seaboard as heretofore with a minimum of 20 cents from Chicago to New York provided that transcontinental traffic be not charged more from any point east of the Pacific coast to any intermediate points west of the Atlantic seacoast.

CALIFORNIA.

CALIFORNIA TOURISTS.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11—Mr Porter of a Chicago firm of commission merchants speaking of the material prosperity of California, expressed surprise at the extent to which tourists and immigrants were coming into California. He referred to the effect this was having on Florida saying: "California people have no idea how much they are profiting at the injury to Florida. I have had good opportunities of knowing this from actual observations and I know that a greater part of the travel which in the past has gone to Florida in the winter this year has come to California." This is confirmed by actual conditions now existing throughout the state. Every hotel is filled to its utmost capacity, not only in this city, but in Los Angeles, San Diego and in many other places in the state.

THE GOLDSON CASE.

THE B & O RAILROAD

The Syndicate of Private Bankers now Negotiating for the Line

NEW YORK, March 11—The negotiations between Garrett and the Richmond Terminal company have fallen through and the deal is off. A new proposition is now being considered by Garrett and negotiations are now on foot for the transfer of the control of the Baltimore and Ohio to a syndicate of private bankers.

ON WALL STREET

NEW YORK March 11—The new arrangements for the purchase of the control of the Baltimore & Ohio by a private syndicate in which President Garrett will have an interest contemplates placing the stock in collateral trust for the new company and issuing bonds secured by this trust company to the amount of $10,000,000. Those bonds are to be taken as part payment, and the new company will issue $[illegible] stock and the holders of outstanding Baltimore & Ohio stock will receive three shares of the new stock for one share of the old. This new stock will be listed on the New York Stock exchange and on the present basis of earnings will receive dividends at the rate of 6 per cent per annum. The express business, parlor cars and the telegraph lines will be sold at the best opportunity, but until that is done they will be operated as heretofore.

A STATEMENT MADE

NEW YORK, March 11—The following statement is made by one of the syndicate about to acquire control of the Baltimore & Ohio railway: "President Garrett has granted an extension of time in which to take up a majority of the stock and he will not hold to technicalities. Regarding the exact terms there is not an option to any one person, but a written agreement is in this city giving a party the right to buy stock and this party although not named in the contract is clearly understood by Garrett and the parties concluding the negotiations. The price is not more than $230, but whether it is more or not he will not say. Garrett will be represented in the syndicate and Gould will also be represented. The sale of the property when consummated will bring about a settlement of a question of interest, and telegraph and express lines will be sold. Sully has the same interest as before in the syndicate and all interests are working in harmony. Negotiations regarding the sale to the Richmond Terminal failed on account of the refusal of the executive committee yesterday to consent to the issue of the additional stock necessary and the stock will be paid for in cash, which will either be subscribed at once by the syndicate or loaned by the First National bank of Drexel, Morgan & Co or by Winslow, Lanier & Co who will issue negotiable certificates for it. The probability at present however is that the necessary cash will be subscribed."

A BALTIMORE STATEMENT

BALTIMORE March 11—It seems to be generally believed in this city that the great railway deal is practically off so far as Mr Sully is concerned and the reason is given that he was unable to raise the necessary amount of money in the time given him but no one can be found to express the opinion that the great scheme is not being patched up. Gentlemen known to be in the confidence of Mr Garrett state to night that another and more powerful party has made its appearance, that the second Richmond would no doubt be victorious. Austin Corbin is known to be in Washington to-night and Robert Garrett is also there and it is not improbable that they will come together and the result of their interview will no doubt have considerable effect on the now complicated situation. That Jay Gould has become interested in the scheme is no longer a matter of doubt and all the money required will be forthcoming. Drexel & Co and other wealthy firms are believed to be working with the proposed syndicate and the Reading and Jersey Central interests are also involved. The details of the deal are in course of preparation and an early announcement is confidently expected. Sully is not believed to have abandoned all hope that his party will win but it is denied here that he is interested in the new scheme. As far as can be learned the companies interested are to pool their stocks and make an entirely new issue and one gentleman goes so far as to say that three shares of stock in the consolidated concern would be given for one share of Baltimore & Ohio but that is believed to be merely a conjecture. It is however understood that the new pool is to effectually settle the telegraph and express difficulties and that the B & O will no matter by what concessions they have to make. Rumors are circulating at clubs to night but everyone seems to be at sea. Garrett is blamed by many for not giving more definite information on the subject but his friends say he is placed in an extremely delicate position and it is impossible for him to do other than keep silent until his plans are more definitely perfected. They have every confidence in his ability to look out for the interests of his company and don't believe he will do anything to jeopardize the interest of Baltimore.

FUNERAL EXERCISES

Universal Sorrow Manifested for Henry Ward Beecher

NEW YORK March 11—All Brooklyn was in mourning to day over the death of Rev Henry Ward Beecher. Public offices were closed, business entirely suspended, and memorial services were held in a large number of churches in the vicinity of Plymouth church. Company G Thirteenth regiment of which Beecher was chaplain, was stationed at the doors of the church, and no one was allowed to enter without a ticket while a vast crowd of people gathered outside of the church. Lady members of the congregation were working within and the whole interior was turned into a perfect flower garden and the fragrant perfume of roses pervaded the air. The facade of the gallery was covered with potted plants and the pulpit was loaded down with flowers and floral emblems sent by friends of different organizations. The casket was placed on a catafalque of white roses, white carnations and smilax directly in front of the reading desk. Not a vestige of the black covering of the casket could be seen and there was nothing to indicate the presence of death except the stillness which pervaded the room and the hushed conversation of the workers.

DOORS THROWN OPEN

It was nearly 10 o clock before the doors were thrown open to those who had been waiting without for nearly three hours. The first four seats on the right of the center aisle were reserved for relatives of the deceased. Beecher's family were not present and the family pew was filled with flowers. Mrs Beecher was in the church a few minutes before the doors opened and went with her sons before the crowd entered. Behind the pews reserved for the family were seated the officers of the Thirteenth regiment and then came members of the legislative committee who wore badges made of white silk. Behind these were delegates from nearly every social, political or religious organization in New York and Brooklyn. There was a delegation of the colored ministers' association present. At 10 30 Rev Dr Charles H Hall robed in his white surplice and accompanied by Rev S B Halliday entered the church and ascended the platform. The music ceased and Mr Hall commenced to read in low but clear tones the opening sentences of the Protestant Episcopal burial service and after this a double quartette and a chorus of sixty voices sang the burial chant "Lord let me know mine end." A lesson was read by Dr Hall and prayer was delivered by Rev S B Halliday. After the first lesson Dr Hall

COMMENCED HIS ORATION

During its delivery there was not a dry eye in the house and several times he was compelled to stop for time to gain control of his voice. In closing his sermon Dr Hall, among other things said: "A brave and weary heart is here at rest, brave of old to dare the brutal force and defy the violence of mobs and ruffians in speaking for the slave; brave to accept murmurs and doubts of his political friends when conscience prompted him to part from them; bravest to wrestle alone with great sorrow when he could find no earthly help. We honor him for the courage of his former acts, we love him and wonder at him for the calm, sweet, gentle resignation of these last years." Dr Hall then pronounced the benediction, and the vast audience slowly filed out of the church. It was a notable gathering, and one long to be remembered. After the conclusion of the services at Plymouth church the public was admitted to view the body.

The surrounding streets in all directions were crowded with people waiting patiently for their turn to gaze upon the face of the dead preacher.

The other churches in which services were held were all crowded to the utmost extent of their capacity. It is estimated that over 25,000 people attended the services in the various churches, and fully twice that number were gathered in the streets in the neighborhood of Plymouth church.

A PORK MAN INTERVIEWED

SAN FRANCISCO March 11—A [illegible] Chicago containing the statement of [illegible] of Armour & Co that that firm had decided to start cotton seed oil mills at various points throughout the South, as the firm had arranged [illegible] seed oil mills to furnish them with [illegible] was shown by associated press representative to Phil Armour tonight who is here on a pleasure trip. He stated in reply to questions that messages had passed between him and Mr Webster regarding the matter and ended by saying "Mr Webster can be accepted as authority on matters concerning our interest." Referring to the wheat [illegible] in Chicago Mr Armour said his firm was not taking any active part in wheat transactions but was conveying some wheat simply in the capacity of bankers and with a smile he added "I did deal in wheat in my younger days but I have since reformed and have since refused to be a plunger."

OPIUM SMUGGLING

DETROIT March 11—Large quantities of opium have been shipped recently from Detroit in some way and when the customs authorities learned this fact they ascertained that no such quantities had passed through their hands as were being sent out of the city regularly. Careful investigation revealed to them that opium was being brought to America by way of British Columbia, shipped thence to Ontario only to disappear and find its way to Detroit. Search for the offenders resulted to day in the arrest of R A West a temporary resident of this city. West was taken before U S Commissioner Graves this afternoon and held in $10,000 bail to [illegible] to-morrow to answer a charge of smuggling. The customs authorities say by the smuggling [illegible] the government has been swindled out of [illegible] $10,000 in customs duties. The opium was [illegible] out from this city usually to California and [illegible] labeled glassware, drugs, etc.

The entire proceeding was carried on so quietly and speedily that very few of the suspects were aware of what had transpired until after the papers had been taken.

A SOUTHERN INDUSTRY FAILS

CHICAGO March 11—A statement is made by Webster, one of the firm of Armour & Co that that firm has decided not to build cotton seed oil mills at various points throughout the South as heretofore announced. This is a direct contradiction of a statement made by the firm [illegible] days ago but the fact that the mills are not to be built appears to be absolute. It is intimated that the firm has arranged with a cotton seed oil [illegible] cate to furnish them oil with at a contract price, which result was accomplished owing to the threat to build opposition mills.

EQUIVOCAL LEGISLATION.

It is not surprising that the meaning of the interstate commerce bill should be a subject of general speculation, without real agreement on any essential point. There is no wonder railroad men, merchants, and people generally cannot agree as to its meaning, when it is remembered that its very authors in congress could not tell what it meant, and frankly admitted their inability to do so.

This act is, in fact, a shuffling, evasive, and therefore cowardly piece of legislation. It was gotten up in response to a popular demand for legislation that would prevent the railways from discriminating against persons and places; and yet its authors, fearing to take the responsibility for the full consequences of an act that would be likely, in the effort to produce some good, to lead to great confusion and injury, both to the railroads and to numerous localities, made nothing definite, specific and clear, but purposely left the act equivocal in its terms, and threw upon the commission created by it the duty of interpreting as well as of administering it. Not only does this fact appear on the face of the act itself, but it came out plainly in the debate when the bill was under consideration in congress.

The bill, it is well known, is not a holograph, but a patchwork of many hands. A senate bill and a house bill were rudely joined, not fused and wrought together; and the only real labor that was expended on the bill was directed to the purpose of leaving it ambiguous and uncertain; so that it would be a sop to the public, and yet, if possible, not hurtful to business. Though the authorship of the bill can be definitely assigned to no one in particular, yet Senator Cullom, of Illinois, may perhaps be said to have had more hand in its authorship than any other one person, and in the senate he was looked to as its expounder. But the Congressional Record shows that when he was interrogated upon points of particular interest and importance, he could tell nothing as to the meaning and probable effects of the bill.

Our transcontinental lines, and our merchants on the Pacific slope, and particularly at seaboard points, are in a quandary as to whether relief from rigorous construction of the bill may or may not be had from the words, "under substantially similar circumstances and conditions." That is, whether the circumstances and conditions of Pacific coast business are not so radically dissimilar from those prevailing in other parts of the country that this business ought to be excepted from the operation of section 4 of the act. Or, to put it still more plainly, whether the roads may not lawfully make such rates to points on the seaboard as will enable them to meet ocean competition.

Senator Cullom was interrogated on this point, and was asked to give a statement of the meaning and intent of the bill under his charge, and particularly what significance he attached to the words, "under substantially similar circumstances and conditions," as applied to this problem of meeting competition by sea. He could only say: "The words are of very great importance, and words that may be taken for what they say by a court or commission who may have something to do with the construction of the law. Whether the section should be so construed as to give relief to the water-point of competition or not, the section itself does provide that at such competing point the interstate commission shall have power to give relief upon a showing of the proper state of facts." Bunsby himself could not be more oracular. And yet one point is admitted here, namely, that "at the water-point of competition" the commission will have lawful power to "give relief."

Yet to certain other senators this admission by the putative father of the bill was alarming. Mr. George of Mississippi hastily rose, with the declaration that "if he believed this was the meaning of the bill, and the courts would assent to it, he would vote against it, because with that construction upon those words, the whole provision in the bill in reference to the long and short haul amounts to nothing." And he added warmly: "With that construction of it the senator gives away all the beneficial part of the bill."

It is curious also to note what was said by Mr. Ingalls of Kansas. Here was a bill, he intimated, which it was feared by its own friends would prove so revolutionary as to necessitate an interpretation that would bring about its own annulment; and in his usual frank and candid manner he added: "This is a bill which, practically, nobody wants, but which everybody intends to vote for; a bill which nobody is satisfied with, and which everybody intends to accept; a bill of which nobody knows the meaning, and yet which we have all agreed ought to pass. I regret that I have to vote for it, and I think there are a great many others in the same condition." Mr. Evarts, in construing the words so often quoted, gave them almost limitless elasticity; arguing that shipments of wheat for exportation, in which we compete with India and the Danubian countries, and of oats, in which we compete with Russia, should justly be regarded as transportation of property not "under substantially similar circumstances and conditions" as shipments of corn for exportation, in which we have no competitor.

Here, then, is the high water mark of equivocal legislation. Here is a law that affects larger interests than any law ever before enacted by the congress of the United States, and extending the power of the government over a wider field than any act hitherto has covered; and yet the legislators who made this law, differing widely as to its meaning, and some of them admitting their utter inability to understand it at all, have put the enforcement of the law into the hands of deputies, expecting that these deputies will be better able to comprehend it than its makers. To say that this is a proceeding unworthy the dignity of the American congress is censure mild enough. It is plain that if the bill shall be construed rigorously by the commission it will have to be modified, and if not construed rigorously it also will have to be modified,—or perhaps in either case repealed altogether. Study of the whole subject compels the conclusion that congress in this legislation has juggled with the public and endeavored to escape responsibility by trusting to deputized judgment the interpretation of a law which, confessedly, it could not itself understand.

The plan now suggested by Northern Pacific men of covering the obstructions at The Dalles and the Cascades by a long portage on the north bank of the Columbia, is about the shrewdest railroad scheme yet proposed in the Northwest. As a means of cutting the Oregon Railway and Navigation at comparatively small expense, it would be a masterly stroke. Two millions of dollars spent here could dictate terms to the forty-three millions invested in the O. R. & N. True, a portage road as proposed would not directly affect all the freight of the Columbia basin since the places of production are oftener than otherwise remote from the river, but it would command all the Snake river business, all the Yakima business, all the wool and grain freights which originate at Arlington, The Dalles and other river points. The proposed portage road would make the river a direct competitor for about one-third of the grain and nearly all the wool of the basin. A local road from Snake river through the Palouse country; another from the Columbia through the Walla Walla valley and a third into the heart of Umatilla country would practically parallel the lines of the O. R. & N. Rarely has a railroad such an opportunity to cut into the business of its rival.

PRUDENT CONCESSIONS.

The Catholic church, in great matters, is usually prudent or worldly wise. Therefore it conforms to circumstances, relaxes, unbends and gets over hard and difficult places, where it would have much trouble and probably suffer loss, if it had not this prudence and worldly wisdom.

The supreme authorities of the church at Rome have been manifesting a good deal of hostility to the American Knights of Labor. This has come partly from the opposition of the church to secret societies and partly from the communistic principles of a portion of those who are associated with the labor organizations. Dr. McGlynn, for his advocacy of Henry George's theories, was suspended from his ministry in New York, and in various ways the displeasure of Rome towards the socialistic forces and movements in America has been signified. This displeasure has been met by a coldness toward the church among a portion of its American communicants, pointing to possible alienation of a considerable body of them. But Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore, it was recently announced, has laid the case of the American Catholics who also are Knights of Labor, before the holy see in a way that will probably induce a considerable relaxation of the rigors of its former policy. On this subject he has submitted a very long statement, the substance of which the mails now bring us. The gist of the statement is that the holy see cannot safely entertain the proposal to condemn the Knights of Labor in America, because it "would be dangerous to the church in our democratic country;" because the church "would be powerless to compel the obedience of our Catholic workingmen, who would regard it as false and iniquitous;" because it would force the sons of the church to rebel against their mother and range themselves with the condemned societies;" because "it would be ruinous to the financial support of the church at home, and to the raising of Peter's pence;" because it "would turn into doubt and hostility the marked devotion of our people toward the holy see," and because it "would be a cruel blow to the authority of the bishops in the United States." It is also argued in substance by the cardinal that the principles of the order do not appear to be antagonistic to the duties of its members to the church.

It may be regarded as certain that this advice will prevail with the holy see. The propaganda will see the necessity of adjusting the policy of the church to conditions existing in America. It will not, indeed, do this in any ostentatious or effusive way, but will quietly modify its policy, so as to keep it within limits of expediency, yet holding a check as far as it prudently can upon movements inconsistent with its traditional policy. That is, it will take the advice of Cardinal Gibbons and avoid a conflict in America with forces that would greatly worst it. Whether the sons of the church call this the guidance of divine wisdom, or others call it wise conformity to the principles of worldly prudence, the result is the same.

THE IMMIGRATION OFFICE.

As is well known, the legislature failed to appropriate money to carry on the state immigration office in this city, and it must either be abolished or maintained by private support. The commissioners, Messrs. Dodd, Ladue, Corbett, Miller and Rothchild, representing the various sections of the state, feel that the immigration work should be continued and have called a meeting of citizens to consider the matter to-day at the board rooms, at half past 2 o'clock. They hold that the invitations to settlers and the promises of information and assistance, issued by the immigration office in the name of the state, are in the nature of a contract and that to abolish the office would be an act of bad faith, as well as a business misfortune to the state. The state having neglected this work, they think it the duty of the public to take it up and carry it along in a way that will at least answer the reasonable expectations of immigrants.

It is scarcely necessary to discuss the question as to the necessity of the immigrant office. Immigrants arriving in Portland as they will in great numbers during the coming summer months, will be eager to learn many things about the country, where to go, when to go and how to go. To supply this information, and to answer letters of inquiry, is the business of this office. It is an absolute necessity. Three years ago it was found that many immigrants actually turned back and returned to their homes through sheer disgust, not being able to obtain at Portland common information as to the country. They did not know where to seek, and men of business had neither time nor disposition to hunt them up and set them aright. In this emergency the board of trade, at its own charge, organized the immigration office. It was felt, however, that this thing, being a matter of general advantage, ought to be supported by the state. The legislature was applied to, and, very, properly, it took the office from the hands of the board of trade. The latter did not ask, however, to be reimbursed for the expense of the office before the state took charge.

The neglect of the state again throws this matter upon the public. The office is no less a necessity than it was three years ago. We cannot leave new comers to shift for themselves and perhaps return to the East in disgust with our neglect. It is a duty as well as a matter of public interest to give them a cordial reception and such information as they require. The duty is one which belongs to the whole state, but its burden may be expected to fall chiefly or wholly upon citizens of Portland. They will not shirk it and the board will be continued. It is, however a shame to the state that it leaves the support of this agency to a few public-spirited citizens.

President Cleveland, by "pocketing" the river and harbor bill, has made it impossible for any democrat to carry Oregon in the presidential election of next year. It will be quite useless for that party to present an electoral ticket in this state.

The young man at Turner's station who shot his sister's seducer yesterday did wrong, but he will not be convicted. In matters of this kind there is a higher law than the statute. All men recognize it and all juries obey it.

SOUTHERN COMMENT.

Charleston News and Courier (Dem.)

The house of representatives will have to bear the blame. It has accomplished more by its stupidity and cowardice to bring reproach upon popular government than any similar body that has met in Washington for years.

Atlanta Constitution (Dem.)

The democratic party appears to be in a transition state. It is full of cranks who cry their medicines from an open barouche, and it is full of imbeciles who hide themselves under the bulrushes in the hope that some rich and gifted Pharaoh's daughter may find them sweetly sleeping.

Richmond Dispatch (Dem.)

What a singular man Mr. Cleveland is. Who can fathom his mind and reveal the reasons which induce him to do so many unaccountable things? Why should he ever have selected a negro to be recorder of deeds for the District of Columbia? Why did he reappoint the same negro, after the refusal of the senate to consent to the appointment? Why did he appoint a second negro to the same important office.

FROM IDAHO.

A Fine Opportunity for Capital and Enterprise—Fine Mining Prospects—Etc.

BELLEVUE, Idaho, March 4.

Since my last letter we have had some cold weather, the thermometer dropping down one morning to 16 degrees below zero, but with the coming in of March there has been a great change, and the sun shines warm during the day, and the snow is settling down until it is not over twenty inches deep on the level, and the great heaps piled along each side of Main street are beginning to melt away fast. The average citizen wears a smiling face, as he casts his eyes over the high hills on each side of us and sees the black points of rocks and tops of the sage brush begin to peep out of the snow. There is no clay subsoil here, as this part of the valley is underlaid with a deep deposit of gravel, and as the surface ground never freezes much, as soon as the snow disappears the land becomes dry and roads good at once.

BUSINESS HERE

Is improving, and bids fair to be more than usually good this coming summer. Several new buildings are to be erected in the spring, and already there is a great deal of inquiry for store rooms, but the demand is greater than the supply. Bellevue is more prosperous to-day than ever before, and shows signs of more real stability than at any time since its commencement. A gentleman of means and experience is already here to build and take charge of the flouring mill that is to be erected this summer, and work of digging the ditch will be commenced as soon as the snow gets away a little more. A splendid power can be got here with Wood river for its supply, and will have a fall of thirty feet.

This city has a fine brick schoolhouse, two stories high and capable of seating 300 pupils, and it is already too small. A number of church buildings are also to be put up this summer.

The ore shipments from here are beginning to increase, and only two mines have been shipping, and average seventy-five carloads of fifteen tons each per month, at a cost of $25 per ton to Omaha or Denver. The ore carries over 100 ounces per ton in silver and is high in lead, and now two more dividend paying claims have come to the front; but owing to the freight contract having expired with the U. P. R. R., one heavy shipping claim here, the Queen of the Hills, has not yet renewed the contract, and has now on hand nearly

1000 TONS OF ORE,

And extracting daily plenty more. Capt. Lusk, the gentlemanly and energetic superintendent of this mine, told the writer last evening that he would like to send this ore to Portland if possible, but so far had been unable to make good terms with the railroad to ship to that place, although it is a shorter distance than either of the other points. There are now four prominent paying mines here, named the Minnie Moore, Queen of the Hills, Overland, and Relief. The sum of $60,000, which was paid to the laboring men for the month of February for work done in these mines, was a great and welcome relief to everybody here. Close around this place are hundreds of prospects, now being partially developed, that may prove valuable, but as they are owned mostly by men without means the work progresses very slow, and many could be bought for a trifle that by opening up deeper might prove to be worth thousands of dollars. There is considerable talk of a large smelter here this spring, but, owing to the high freights for coke and coal, it is uncertain yet whether it will be done or not. The one great trouble here is the lack of capital to open up this vast mineral country. There are openings and chances here for capital that cannot be found in older states like Oregon and California. Rents are very high here, and the ruling rate of interest, even on good security, is from 1½ to 2 per cent. per month, and money hard to get at that. Such is the scarcity of money that there are mining claims around here that can be bought for almost the purchaser's own price—all the way from $50 to $1000—that with a little outlay might develop into good paying mines with a few weeks' or months' work. All the paying mines are at present on the west side of the river, but several claims on the east side of us have produced very rich ore in limited quantities as yet, but there has been very little development work done, and there is every probability that when a reasonable depth has been attained the mines of the east will be far richer than those of the west. With the opening of the coming summer we look for a more energetic prospecting of old Lookout mountain than any of the numerous surface scratchings that have yet been done. The curse of this whole country is that a few men of limited means, or we ought to say, of no means at all, have squatted on this whole district and got claims located and recorded and are holding them year after year, with the vain hope that the capitalist will come along and pay a fabulous sum for a hole in the ground miscalled a mine. We have seen in our travels in Oregon men who were land poor, and there are men here who are claim poor, owning and trying to prospect from a dozen to twenty claims, when they have not the means to develop more than one. Yet this is the case with every mining country, and in time it will regulate itself, perhaps; but it is a great drawback to a new camp. With nearly

FIVE YEARS' OBSERVATION

Of the Wood river mines, we say that there is a better opening for capital and labor here, all things being considered, chief of which are the richness and permanence of the mines, facilities of transportation, wood and water, healthfulness of climate, production of soil, society and business generally, than any other mining camp that we know of at this time. Here is an opening for the farmer and stock man, the mechanic and the business man, and as for the capitalist, there is no end to the demand for good business houses that would yield handsome rents; and smelters, quartz mills and various kinds of reduction works, that would find steady employment; besides the many mining claims that lie scattered around these hills, that only need the magic hand of capital to soon become bullion producers. We are well aware that with many men, mining of all kinds is looked upon with suspicion, and well they may be, for in many localities large sums of money have been sunk in mining, but with improved machinery for reduction and extraction of ores, it is demonstrated that mines that would not pay expenses will now yield good interest on the investment, and with honest, practical men to manage the mine, mining is just as legitimate, honorable and remunerative as any other kind of business.

MANY MEN.

Will put into a railroad corporation thousands of dollars and consider that all right, and yet more money has been sunk in one of these railway deals in a few short weeks than has been spent in a whole state or territory in the business of mining. And yet in any of the money centers there is always plenty of money to be got to put into railroads. Oftentimes large sums of money are put into a mine by foreign or Eastern capitalists and a learned man sent out to superintend the mine. Nine times out of ten this superintendent has never seen a mine in his life till he comes out to take charge of this costly purchase, and soon the pay gives out and more money must come out of the stockholders, and too often the money is wasted and mining gets into disrepute, solely by mismanagement. Permit me a sample of mine management here. The Minnie Moore mine was sold some two years ago to an English company for some $500,000 and a man sent out to take charge of the property. The ore shipments began to fall off, and soon stopped altogether, and the whole country here was under a cloud, as it was generally considered that the mine had given out, and when Mr. Thomas Carmichael, the present manager, took charge of the property on Christmas day, 1885, there

WAS NOT A PARTICLE OF ORE

In sight, and the works were in bad condition, and there was a mortgage on the mine for $240,000, besides an indebtedness of $25,000, and with the beginning of this year, or about one year after taking possession, the mine is free from debt, all paid from the profits from the mine. New levels have been run, a new pump put in, two new 100 horse-power boilers have been put in, and other improvements made, and there is at least eighteen months' ore in sight (about $1,000,000); and yet this mine was thought to be a "dugout mine" a little over a year ago.

From a copy of the Salt Lake Tribune of recent date we see that St. Louis is becoming quite a mining center. We mention the fact that about one year and a half ago the Granite Mountain mine, of Montana, was floated in that city at about 35 cents per share, and is now quoted in the market at $67, and is paying a fair interest on that valuation; in fact, paying as much on dividends as all the banks of that city. The monthly dividends paid in that city are about $400,000, or $4,800,000 per annum, and it is growing from year to year. From the situation of Portland she ought to be able to command a very large share of mining patronage, and as we have remarked before, the only way is to reach out and purchase or lease the leading mines of a large district and make the city the base of supplies. There is no trouble about controlling the trade; but to wait until these eastern capitalists capture a camp is to let the golden opportunity pass by.

A CARLOAD

Of railway officials passed over this line of road yesterday, with a view, it is said, of considering the practicability of building a branch road to tap the Camas gold belt mines, some nine miles west of Bellevue, and from the way things are looking now, there is going to be a lively camp here this coming summer, and more of the precious metal is going to be extracted than even the most sanguine had thought possible less than one year ago. OREGON.

J. J. Vanatta has been committed to the asylum from Marion county.

The Weston Leader thinks most of the fruit buds in that locality are killed.

The Milton Eagle says the peach crop in that vicinity has been killed in the bud.

Wilbur Gibons, son of Hon. R. F. Gibons, died last week at Prineville, aged 22 years.

James M. Allen, a pioneer of 1846, died March 1 at Boyd, Polk county, aged 65 years.

The Canyon City News says that for some days about 1000 sheep a day died in the vicinity of the north fork of John Day.

N. B. Harris, the defaulting bank cashier of Somerville, is in all under three indictments, and cannot procure bail.

J. E. McFarland, a pioneer of Linn county, died near Albany on the 4th inst., aged 86 years. He had lived in the place where he died since 1852.

W. N. Wells, of Pendleton, built the first frame house in Oregon City in 1843. The lumber used in its construction came from Massachusetts.

Frank Hauswirth, of North Yamhill, got ashamed of the old school house and built a nice one at his own expense, then hired teachers to teach in it.

The funeral of John G. Baker, the Yamhill county pioneer, took place at McMinnville Sunday. The pall bearers were all of the immigration of 1843 but one. They were Messrs. Sitton, Garrison, Holman, Henlbree, Cozine and A. J. Baker.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

The grand jury at Tacoma have indicted Jack Matthews and Ed. Glenfield for tarring and feathering one Starkweather several weeks ago.

The residence of James Brockman, in Rock creek valley, near Rockford, was burned Friday night, both building and contents being a total loss.

Capt. W. N. Horton, a prominent resident of Olympia, died suddenly Tuesday in his stateroom on board the steamer Emma Hayward, while en route from Seattle to Olympia. Capt. Horton was about 65 years of age, an old settler, and had been on the Sound about thirty years. He was a former steamboat captain, and at the time of his decease was proprietor of the Olympia Water company and interested in the manufacture of wooden pipe. He has been subject to heart disease for sometime, and has complained not a little to his friends concerning his physical condition. Yesterday he was to have left Olympia with his wife for Portland, and take the steamer State of California last night for San Francisco. Coroner McCoy held an inquest on the body, and the jury rendered a verdict of death from a fall, caused probably by an epileptic fit. His neck was found to be broken.

Sam R. Irwin, superintendent of the Columbia River Paper company, was in town Saturday, taking items, etc., preparatory to going East to purchase machinery for the new mill. Mr. Irwin assures us that work will be commenced inside of the present month.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Victoria Colonist. Cyrus Hardy, a well known engineer, was found dead in his bedroom in the Commercial hotel last week. The deceased was in excellent spirits and apparently in good health before retiring. He was found lying on the floor near the bed. The cause of his death is attributed to heart disease. Mr. Hardy, who was a native of Baltimore, Md., was aged 60 years, and came to this province in the early part of 1856.

IDAHO.

There was great rejoicing in Lewiston and Moscow over the passage of the annexation bill and greater indignation over its veto.

They are indulging in rosy anticipations in the Cœur d'Alene mining country. The Murray Sun says that before the season is over they will have in that region 100 mine owners rich enough to go to the United States senate.

MONTANA.

The old adobe building in which the first session of the legislature of Montana was held, is still standing at the lower end of Main street, Bannock. The old building is in a very good state of preservation, but it looks as though it might be a hundred years old, so weather beaten are its walls and roof.

A STATEMENT FROM MR. HARRIS.

UNION, Or., March 9.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

I notice in your issue of the 7th inst. an article copied from the La Grande Gazette, which is as follows: "N. B. Harris, who for the past year has been cashier of the Summerville bank, was arrested last week on a charge of embezzling funds of the institution. Harris was preparing to leave, ostensibly on a business trip for the bank, but with the real intention of skipping. His irregular transactions were first discovered by Frank Collins, a clerk in the bank, but the books had been kept in such a manner as to make everything appear straight. The exact amount of the embezzlement is not known, but will probably reach to the neighborhood of $4000. As soon as Harris was arrested he confessed his guilt, and made restitution to the amount of his property in Summerville, valued at about $2000. He was taken to jail, and his case will probably be decided upon by the close of the present week."

In justice to my honor I must ask you to allow space in your valuable paper for a reply to the above statement, which I trust you will freely grant. First I will say that I have been cashier of the above named bank, and the facts are I built up the institution and was sole controller.

Second, the above article says I was preparing to leave ostensibly on a business trip for the bank, but my real intention was skipping. This statement was utterly false. I was ready to make a business trip East purely on bank business as soon as Mr. J. H. Rinehart, president of the above named bank, returned from Salem. And I have a letter in which Rinehart wrote me from Salem, saying that he thought best for me to go East and settle up some mortgage business, and that he would take charge of the bank while I attended to said business.

Third—It says the books were kept in such a manner as to show everything straight. Everything was straight. There was no evidence of any business having been done by said cashier except that which showed on the bank's books. Nothing was destroyed, nor there were no statements needed from its correspondents to show how the business stood, but it was all showed up by the books of said bank. I deny any embezzlement whatever, and will not comment on that point.

Fourth—"As soon as Harris was arrested he confessed his guilt and made restitution to the amount of his property in Summerville, valued at $2000."

There was no guilt confessed whatever, and the above statement, with many others made, show that all the statements that have been made are false. The whole matter regarding the Summerville bank is summed up in this manner: Certain parties in said bank are desirous of getting rid of me as cashier—cause unknown—and now take the plan of arresting and trying to convict me of embezzlement to get me entirely out of the way. The amount, as shown by the books of said bank, owed to said bank by N. B. Harris, was $5821, and his interest in the bank, which was held as security, was $7262 29. To show you more plainly what I did for the bank, I will here say that in eight months' time I made for the little institution a net profit in notes and mortgages of $7869 74, and there was never one dollar in cash paid into the treasury of the bank by its stockholders, nor did any of the other officers ever turn a helping hand towards the building up of the concern. I can say this much for the help lent by other officers, that at one time Dr. W. E. Rinehart, vice president of the concern negotiated a loan of $150 for a certain party, and at the same time I was getting 10 per cent. cash out of the borrowers for these loans, which would have made the bank $15. He (Rinehart) charged $5 for getting the man his money, put the $5 in his pocket, and went his way, assisting the bank to make a showing to its stockholders. These facts are substantiated, both by the books of the concern and by good, honorable citizens.

I leave this matter for the public to judge, and trust all will be satisfactory. N. B. HARRIS.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

HELD TO ANSWER FOR PERJURY.—One legged Johnny Mooney was arraigned in the police court yesterday for perjury in the case of Daniel Stuart, who went off the Fourth street trestle bridge over Couch lake two weeks ago and was drowned. Mooney swore before the coroner's jury that he saw Stuart topple and fall over, and that he was under the influence of liquor at the time. Mooney likewise swore to looking for assistance after the accident happened to Stuart, and that for this purpose he went to Julius Harr's saloon, where he found but one person, the proprietor, whom he could not get to assist. Policeman R. M. Stuart, who makes charge of perjury against Mooney, says he met him on the night of the accident just after it occurred, and Mooney failed to mention it. Mooney says he notified the first officers he met, Harkleroad and Collins. Stuart says his meeting with Mooney was at least fifteen minutes before Mooney's meeting with the other policemen. Deputy District Attorney Simon avers that every word Mooney swore to before the coroner's jury, except to his name and age, was false in every particular. It has been hinted strongly that Mooney threw the man from the bridge for the purpose of robbery. Mooney waived examination to appear before the grand jury, and in default of bonds was committed to the county jail, which for Johnny is not a new experience. Michael Mooney, his father, swears vengeance against the police for keeping his son in durance vile for five days previous to making a charge against him. He was told to take his case and himself up before the grand jury.

TENTH SWEDENBORGIAN LECTURE.—At the Tabernacle the Rev. John Doughty lectured last night on the topic, "How did the Lord effect the redemption by his coming into the world?" The lecturer took the ground that the redemption was not effected by any substitution of the Savior for guilty man, or by the literal blood of Christ shed upon the cross, but that God in Christ assumed a humanity in the world, for the purpose of getting nearest to man. At that time evil spirits, under the generic name of the devil, as they are termed in the gospels, had acquired complete dominion over the minds of man, so much so that they frequently possessed them, soul and body. Then God, by means of his human nature assumed in the world, was able to meet them on their own ground, as it were, drive them away from man, release mankind from their thraldom, and break their power over the human race. He claimed that men have a work to do in co-operating with the Lord in the work of salvation. They had lost, however, the power of raising above sin, by the hold which evil spirits had acquired over them. Hence, the work of redemption on the part of the Lord was in breaking that power so as to restore the freedom of man to do good if he would, and thus place him in a position to rise above evil and sin. Mr. Doughty announced that he would preach Sunday morning, by the kind invitation of Rev. Mr. Eliot, in the Unitarian church, and at 3 P. M., in the Tabernacle, would give his last lecture in this city. Subject, "What must we do to be saved."

ALASKAN COURT SUSTAINED.—In the case of Otto Nelson vs. the United States, defendant in error, Judge Deady yesterday confirmed the judgment of the district court of Alaska. The facts in the case are as follows: In May, 1884, congress passed an act prohibiting the manufacture, importation or sale of "intoxicating liquors" in Alaska except for mechanical, medicinal and scientific purposes, under a penalty of $500 fine or six months' imprisonment. In 1886 Otto Nelson was indicted by the grand jury of Sitka for selling liquor contrary to this statute, and was tried and convicted. He brought the case to the district court here for review on writ of error. He objected to the judgment of the Alaska court on the ground that the law of 1884 was invalid, as congress had no right to pass such a law. The court held that the United States was granted by the constitution the power to make wars and treaties, and that this implied the power to acquire territory by conquest or by treaty and the power to acquire territory implied the power to govern it. In doing this congress may pass any law not forbidden by the constitution of the United States, and may therefore pass an act forbidding the manufacture, sale or importation of intoxicating liquors.

ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH.—Work will be commenced on the foundation of the German Catholic church as soon as the weather permits. The first ground was broken on Tuesday by Rev. Father Sumner, and the corner stone will be laid on Saturday the 19th inst., St. Joseph's day, the patron saint of the new church. The plans were furnished by Otto Kleemann, architect, and call for a structure 40x85 feet for the main body of the church, with a projecting tower and porch. The hight of the tower from the sidewalk will be 116 feet. The main body of the church is 32 feet in hight, hard finished and ornamented with gothic hammerbeam trusses. There is also a large gallery in front. The rear part is two-story and contains in the first floor a vestry, parlor, kitchen and dining room for the priest and four bedrooms above. As the rear part runs into Tanner creek and is nearly forty feet from the ground, the same rests on frame bents, with a basement under the rear part for fuel and furnace.

DIVORCE MATTERS.—Margaret M. Church has commenced suit for a divorce from A. N. Church, on the ground of cruel treatment, and for the care and custody of a minor child, Robert, aged 9 months. The parties were married February 6, 1885. Maggie J. Horn yesterday commenced suit in the state circuit court for a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony existing between her and W. H. Horn. They were married in Wasco county July 11, 1872. Plaintiff claims defendant deserted her February 16, 1884. She asks for the care of their child, Rollin, aged 8 years. Judge Stearns yesterday granted F. E. Griswold a divorce from E. B. Griswold, and the custody of a minor child, Edward, 4 years of age. The couple were married in Portland May 6, 1882. Plaintiff claims that after marriage personal indignities were heaped upon her and her life thereby made burdensome.

GAME LAW UNCHANGED.—There seems to be an impression abroad that the last legislature amended or repealed the game law. Such, however, is not the case. A bill to repeal the act protecting Mongolian pheasants passed the senate and another bill allowing deer to be hunted with hounds and otherwise amending the game law passed the house, but neither of them passed both houses, and so neither became a law. It is said the great anxiety evinced in some quarters to destroy the pheasants arose from an idea that their skins would sell well to milliners for ornamenting ladies hats. A full grown pheasant would make a fine large ornament, and if perched on the crown of one of the tall hats now fashionable would give the wearer a decided pre-eminence over less fortunate people who could only afford a duck or a bobtailed rooster.

CHINESE THIEF CAPTURED.—Between 11 and 12 o'clock last night a man heard the crashing of glass at Front and Ash streets, and notified policemen Brannan and Harkleroad of the fact. The officers repaired to the scene, and discovered that a glass door in Jacobs Bros.' store had been broken. They awaited developments, and were rewarded by witnessing Ah Lum, a Chinaman, come along and put his hand in through the hole in the door, and take out a bolt of cloth. Ah Lum was immediately placed under arrest for larceny. On being searched at the city jail a number of pawn tickets were found on his person, showing that during the last three weeks he had pawned goods to the amount of $13 50. Ah Lum is supposed to be the fellow who broke into Rosenfeld's wholesale tobacco store a month ago.

EXAGGERATED REPORT.—There has been considerable said about heavy losses of stock in Southern Oregon. Mr. Chenoweth, a well-known cattleman of that section, thinks the loss has been exaggerated, and that "when the smoke clears away" it will be found that the loss has been much lighter than reported. It would be singular if there should be heavy loss in the southern part of the state when it has been light in every other part. Mr. J. Baxter, who has a range at the mouth of the Yakima, is in town. He says he has had no loss. He was prepared for an emergency and has fed out 500 tons of hay. He says there was no loss in the White bluffs range, opposite him across the Columbia.

FIRST OF THE SEASON.—Deputy U. S. Marshal Morse yesterday brought down from Pendleton one Sam Semley, charged with selling liquor to Indians. This is the first of this kind of cattle coming in from that section for some time. The season may now be considered open and further shipments may be expected weekly or so. Semley had a little difficulty with Morse on the way about going out of the car to smoke. He was persuaded with the assistance of a pair of handcuffs to remain on board the train, but he promised the marshal a thrashing at his earliest convenience. When his bracelets were removed he did not find it convenient, so Mr. Morse must wait a while.

INCREASED PASSENGER ACCOMMODATIONS.—The alterations and improvements of the steel steamer Olympian, to fit her for the Alaska route are about completed. She has had sixty-eight new state rooms put in, and can now carry 108 more first-class passengers. On the completion of the work here the Olympian will be placed in the dry dock at Esquimalt so that the necessary repairs can be made to the hull. She will be ready to start on her first voyage of the season about April 20.

EXTENSIVE ALTERATIONS.—Plans are now in the hands of an architect, and bids will be opened next week, for making some very material changes in the departments of the Farmers' and Mechanics' store. The east end will be opened back 40 feet by a frontage of 100 feet that is now occupied by the establishment on First street. The corner will be changed in front by opening new show windows, and the walls now standing between the corner stores will be removed. New departments will be added. About $10,000 will be expended in the alterations.

JURY OUT.—The second trial of Harry Prindle, the insurance agent, on a charge of the larceny by embezzlement of several thousand dollars from George C. LaRocque September last, was held in Judge Stearns's court yesterday. Prindle was represented by M. C. George and the state by District Attorney McGinn. In the first trial, which took place several weeks ago, the jury failed to agree after several hours' deliberation. The case yesterday was given to the jury at 5 o'clock and at last reports they were still out.

LARGE IMMIGRATION.—There will arrive to-day in Portland 162 immigrants, ninety-six over the Northern and sixty-six over the Union Pacific, and this is just the beginning of what is certain to be a very large season's immigration. The announcement that enough people to start a good-sized village are to arrive here in a body, ought to be sufficient to bring together a large number of citizens at 2:30 this afternoon at the immigration board rooms to consider means for raising funds to continue the board work.

TOOK A TWENTY.—A boy named Abrams, son of a clothier on First street near D, was arrested in Justice Tuttle's court yesterday on a charge of larceny. It appears a neighbor's boy was playing with some $20 gold pieces which he had taken out of a bureau drawer in the family domicile, and the other boy took one from him and ran off with it. The case will come up to-day. Times must be rather flush on North First street when people keep $20 pieces loose in bureau drawers for the children to play with.

EXHIBITION DAYS.—Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday next will be devoted by Messrs. Mellis & Co. to their semi-annual spring millinery opening. Preparations are being made on an extraordinary grand scale, and while the ladies are the principal parties interested, the pleasurable excitement which is conveyed from ornamental splendor will be graciously granted to the sterner sex. The establishment will be closed on Monday afternoon.

UNION SERVICES.—The gospel service last night at the Calvary church marked the close of the first week of the union meetings. Rev. E. W. Caswell of the M. E. church preached an earnest and practical sermon on "Christian Experience," from John vii, 17. Sunday next at 3 P. M. a gospel meeting will be held in the New Market theater, addressed by Rev. Dr. Himes and Rev. R. B. Dilworth.

CLINKER-BUILT, IRON-CLAD JAIL.—For some days past, workmen have been engaged in the county jail lining the cells with iron plates, in order to provide additional security for the keeping of prisoners. They have finished work in the left-hand corridor, and will be through with the other very shortly. The county court ordered the work done.

MINING COMPANY INCORPORATED.—Edward Sanderson Smith, Willard Young and F. J. Carroll yesterday filed articles of incorporation of the St. Peter's Mining and Milling company; objects, to engage in the general business of mining and the reduction of ores. Capital stock $100,000, divided into 5000 shares of the value of $20 each.

PASTOR COMING.—Mr. Geo. W. Staver yesterday received a dispatch from Rev. J. W. Alderman, the newly-appointed pastor of the Taylor street M. E. church here, who is now at Burlington, Iowa, stating that he will leave St. Paul for Portland next Tuesday, and will arrive in time to occupy the pulpit a week from to-morrow.

DISTRESSING CASUALTY.—While the family of Mr. Coyle, of the Upper Cascades, were at supper on Thursday evening a blast was fired in an excavation near by, and a piece of rock was driven through a window, striking Mr. Coyle's little daughter Teresa, 3 years and 6 months old, on the head, killing her instantly.

"AMERICA, THE LAND WE LIVE IN."—A very interesting lecture on the above subject, illustrated by lantern views, was given last evening in Y. M. C. A. hall by Mr. E. C. Frost for the benefit of the boys' branch, the proceeds of which go to increase the library of the branch.

BRIEF MENTION.

The gala night of the week and a rousing programme at the Tivoli.

Capt. Runcimen, of the British bark Swansea Castle, came up from Astoria yesterday.

Remember the young men's meeting to-night in Y. M. C. A. parlors. All young men are invited.

Jennings, the oysterman, has perfected arrangements for weekly receipts of fresh canned oysters.

For a fine turnout go to the Corbett stables, corner Third and Madison streets. Elegant new buggies and fine horses.

Multnomah Camp No. 2, Indian War Veterans, will meet in the office of the county court at the court house to-day at 1 P. M.

A. H. Morgan, who served this school district as director for six years acceptably, is now a candidate for school clerk. His familiarity with our school affairs gives him a leading position in the contest.

License to wed was issued yesterday for S. Peterson and Hilda S. Carlson, Simon Abraham and Pauline Hannan, William H. Smith and Sadie Curran, Andrew Westrem and Emma Johnson.

Read the card of R. A. Frame, real estate and money broker, in to-day's issue under new to day. Mr. Frame makes a specialty of loans on all kinds of personal property, and his energy and fair dealing has built up a fine business. We take pleasure in commending him to public confidence.

Deputy Poundmaster Wilmer was out in full force yesterday gathering in the spring run of dogs. He secured about two dozen, which is very good for a starter. If he keeps on at this rate the council will have to order the city surveyor to survey and mark the bounds of an extension to the dog cemetery down by the river side.

Company A has been supplied with thirty-six stand of the latest improved and best arms and equipments furnished the Oregon militia and are now on an equal footing with the other companies here in this respect. The company has received twenty-five new members, and has only half a dozen or so of the old members on its list.

Interesting Exercises—Green Hand—Runaway Notes

Interesting exercises at the hall of the W. C. T. U., as previously announced, took place closing about 10 at night. The programme opened with prayer by Rev. L. D. Richards and congregational singing, "Rescue the Perishing," followed by duet by Professor and Mrs. Miller; recitation, "How Jamie McGee got to America," Ney Churchman; solo, "When will he come," Mrs. White, and recitation, "Temperance echoes," Miss Louisa Drucks. The discussion of the question, "Resolved, That wealth has more to do with social position than character," was opened by Mrs. Dr. King, of Portland, for the affirmative. Mrs. Mary L. Kenworthy presented the negative. The question was debated to the close by Miss Jane E. Weeden, Rev. Mr. Bishop, L. H. Wells and Mrs. Keenan. At conclusion of the argument Mr. Wells summed up for the negative and Rev. Bishop for the affirmative. The judges decided in favor of the affirmative. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Peirce, and was in all respects a successful entertainment.

IN JUSTICE COURT.

Yesterday forenoon the case against the proprietor of the Casino saloon, charged with selling liquor to Minnie Buckley, came up for trial in the justice court. The evidence produced showed that the proprietor was not in at the time the liquor was alleged to have been sold the girl, but it was established beyond a doubt that the girl was taken into the saloon. Mrs. Buckley testified that her daughter Minnie left her house with a nice (?) young man (James Erney) and Jack, the girl's brother, stated he met his sister in the company of this man coming out of the back door of the Casino. The jury thought the evidence sufficient and brought in a verdict accordingly. An attempt was made by defendant's attorney to show the complaint was spite work. This was not the case. Officer Atterberry, who made the complaint, was simply discharging his sworn duty, and was not actuated by anything else.

LIVELY RUNAWAY.

Yesterday afternoon at 4:30 the fine bay team of Smith & Landers came dashing from Water street up J with the fore part of a wagon attached to them. They continued at a frightful speed as far up as Twelfth street, where they were stopped. Mr. J. H. Landers, the driver, put on a load of lumber at the yard at the foot of J street. The lumber was short pieces, and had to be put on across the wagon and not lengthways. Long timbers were used on each side the bolsters to support the load. These proved too small, and when the team started they gave way with a crash, breaking the "reach," frightening the spirited team and throwing Mr. Landers off with considerable force. The horses then dashed off with the fore part of the wagon. Little or no damage resulted. The horses' hind shoes were cast off as they tore up the street, and they were slightly cut about the feet. The runaway caused much excitement along the street the horses ran.

GREEN HAND.

When a man attempts to do something about which he knows nothing his incompetency soon becomes apparent. This is what Mr. Mercer thought the other day when a man whom he had employed attempted to drive his wood wagon down the ferry incline. Mr. Mercer drove down to the ferry, leaving his hired man with his team at the top of the incline. After waiting several moments and the man did not come, Mercer went back, when he found the "expert driver" had locked one of the front wheels. Every time he started the team the tongue would be violently jerked to one side. Mr. Mercer's face was a study when he saw what had been done, and he lost no time in unlocking the front wheel when the wagon went down without further difficulty.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

A case of scarlet fever in McMillan's addition.

The Sellwood city council holds its first meeting to-night.

J. H. Cox, of Glad Tidings, was at the Central yesterday.

Dr. Honan, of La Grande, Union county, was in the city yesterday.

B. W. Thomas, of East Portland, expects to go into business at Pendleton.

Wm. M. Lock and family ... for their former home in Canyon City, Col.

Rev. S. P. Davis has gone on a trip to La Grande and other points east of the mountains.

The wife of Col. J. K. Phillips is lying very sick at her residence, Seventeenth and O streets.

D. S. P. Hill, merchant of Creswell, was at the Central hotel yesterday. He bought a stock of goods in East Portland.

Workmen were engaged all day yesterday repairing the damage to the underpinning of the roadway at the corner of Sixth and J.

Mr. M. Proosto, a young man from Vancouver, was in East Portland ... on a short visit to his brother, who is attending school here.

School district No. 4, in Powell's valley, elected J. W. Shattuck director and S. Metzger clerk. Another term of school has been commenced, with Mr. Lent as the teacher.

The funeral of Frank Henry, who died at his residence in Stephens addition last Wednesday, took place yesterday. Rev. Sellwood, rector of the Episcopal church officiated. The remains were buried in Lone Fir cemetery.

Mr. John Poole yesterday afternoon returned from a rapid trip to Hubbard station. He reports the country in that section as making substantial progress along the line of improvements. As soon as the ground gets a little dryer farming operations will commence.

There are a number of citizens in East Portland who were soldiers in the Mexican war, and whose age entitles them to receive a pension under the law that passed congress in relation thereto. It is understood Mr. James Powell, of this city, has made application for a pension under this law. All Mexican veterans over 62 are entitled to receive pensions whether they were wounded or not. Mr. Powell will undoubtedly receive a pension, and his friends will be glad of his good fortune.

For some time past the west bound train, which arrives at 10 o'clock in the morning over the O. R. & N. line has been delayed quite often some five and seven hours, not reaching East Portland until late in the afternoon. In consequence, the mail for the postoffice on this side of the river has been delayed in distribution. When the train comes in on time there is no delay and the mail is at once distributed. The mail does not go over to Portland and then come to East Portland, but comes direct from the train to the east side postoffice. This will explain the recent delay in the distribution of Eastern mail. The train now coming in on time, there will be no more delay.

FROM DAYTON, W. T.

Important Immigration Document Soon to be Issued—Chagrin Over the President's Veto—Etc., Etc.

DAYTON, W. T., March 10, 1887.

The Dayton Board of Immigration are actively at work on the prospective pamphlet, which will be printed here by the Columbia Chronicle company. They have also bargained with Mr. Samuels, of the West Shore, for a good number of cuts of prominent residences, business houses, court houses and school buildings. These will find space in the pamphlet. Following persons will also contribute articles, as follows:

W. H. H. Fouts, on "Water Power."
Hon. Geo. Eckler, on "Lumber Interest."
Dr. Emil Bories, on "Health and Weather."
R. O. Hawks, on "Schools of this County."

E. T. Wilson, formerly editor and proprietor of the Columbia Chronicle, will write up the country in general, and also act as compiler and editor. The pamphlet will be written with a view to encourage immigration, and to advertising this section of Washington territory. Walla Walla county, too, is working in the same direction. Your correspondent has seen the advantage of issuing these books and pamphlets in Southern California. One must advertise to become known.

Last Saturday Drake's Opera house was crowded with the representative farmers of this county and the question of signing the N. P. railroad transportation contract strongly debated pro and con, the outcome of the meeting resulting in appointing a committee of fifteen of the most solid business men amongst the farmers, whose duty it will be to interview his neighbor and get signatures. The prospect of the N. P. railroad running a branch road to this point looks encouraging. A movement of the same nature is agitated in Walla Walla county as well. Farmers, as well as merchants, are getting awakened to the fact that they must get up and ruffle their feathers.

H. N. Pringle, who has so efficiently managed and had charge of the fire steamer last year, was reappointed by the city council at their last meeting.

A number of members of Dayton lodge, No. 3, K. of P., are going to Pomeroy next Saturday and assist in organizing a lodge of the order in that place.

Edwin Kissell, who had the misfortune of breaking his leg at Robertson's sawmill two weeks ago, is improving.

Work has again begun on the court house. Plasterers as well as carpenters are busy, and by next July the building, no doubt, will be turned over to the county.

Last Wednesday the new county officers were installed and commenced their labors.

J. W. Rowland, formerly with J. H. Day, druggist, of this place but now with Snell, Heitshu & Woodard, of Portland, visited friends and acquaintances here last week.

Citizens generally feel quite sore over the president's action in not permitting Northern Idaho to become annexed to this portion of the territory. Democrats, especially, have very little to say, but think Cleveland made a mistake.

Snow is rapidly disappearing from the hills and the bright, clear, sunny sky plainly tells us spring is here.

Never before have the county roads been in such a lamentable condition as at present. Saturday's Chronicle will contain a caustic letter on the subject from one of our physicians. The roads are much worse as one nears town. With the amount of gravel which is so handy such a state of affairs should not exist. The thrift and zeal of a county depends much on how its roads are kept up, as well as the streets of a city.

THEY WANT THEIR MAIL.

LINKVILLE, March 8.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Enclosed I send you a true copy of a petition this day sent to the postmaster at Ashland, with the request that he endorse it and then forward it to the postmaster-general.

This mail matter has become an outrage that we cannot stand much longer. We have not received a copy of THE OREGONIAN for one week.

The trouble is the contractor, one Dr. Warren, is using his influence to have this route abandoned and one established down the Klamath river, simply because he has ta... for one... for ... the amount he can ca... ...rs set out in said p... persons signing ... you publish

Sirs—We, the undersigned citizens of Linkville, who, in years gone by, received our mail at this office through the faithful services of Oregon's contractors on the mail route between this place and Ash and, respectfully beg of you to cause the mail for this place now lying in your office and in the hollow trees, sheds and outhouses along said route to be forwarded to us by freight team or other conveyance.

Time consumed in transportation of the same is no object to us—we simply want our mail and want it bad.

We claim to be honest men who pay our subscriptions in advance, pay our taxes, debts, etc., and therefore want our Youth's Companion, illustrated papers and other little items we have sent East and to San Francisco and Portland for.

We nearly all have infant children who must perish if our nursing bottles are not forthcoming.

We have paid our taxes to help pay the far a way contractor (Dr. Warren), who now says he cannot carry the mail on said route.

Now did not this same contractor take a solemn oath that he was familiar with the rocks, mud, snow and other barriers on said route?

Did he not also execute his penal bond in a large sum, that he would carry said mail with "certainty, security and celerity?"

God help the son of Oregon that would thus perjure himself and then execute his bond for his own punishment.

Now, knowing that you know our isolated condition, our helplessness, our love of our country, our burning thirst for literature, and our love for our absent friends from whom we long to receive that loving letter now probably moulding in some way place on said route, and knowing that you know all of this, we beg of you, we implore you to send us our mail, send it soon, send it any time, send it direct, send it by way of the Red sea, but send us our mail, that is all we ask and nothing more.

Now we believe this, our prayer will be answered, and you will send us our mail containing our little wants; but should you, however, feel some timidity in the matter, owing to your superiors in postal matters, who live and direct said mails so far from Oregon that they do not know of such a place but once in "four years," then we ask of you to forward this open secret to the commander-in-chief that he may know of our unquenched thirst for knowledge which causes this waiting of ours. Respectfully yours,

VANCOUVER NOTES.

Judge Frank Allyn writes to Judge B. F. Dennison, under date of Feb. 28, to say that he expects to be here in thirty days to open court.

Mr. G. T. McConnell, clerk of the district court, who has been quite sick, is recovering.

Mrs. Emma Molloy, now under $5000 bonds to appear for trial at Springfield, Missouri, being indicted as accessory after the fact for the murder of Sarah Graham in October, 1885, has been holding revivals in the Methodist church here and now at La Camas, assisted by Rev. J. R. Thompson and Rev. Mr. Skidmore.

A MEDICINE, NOT A DRINK

High Authority.

Hop Bitters is not, in any sense, an alcoholic beverage or liquor, and could not be sold, for use, except to persons desirous of obtaining medicinal bitters.

GREEN B. RAUM,
U. S. Com'r Internal Rev.

Washington, D.C., Sept. 24, 1884.

Dear Sir—Why don't you get a certificate from Col. W. H. W., of Baltimore, showing how he cured himself of drunkenness by the help of Hop Bitters. His is a wonderful case. He is well known in Rochester, N. Y., by all the drinking people there. He is known in this city, Cincinnati, New Orleans, New York; in fact all over the country, as he has spent thousands of dollars for rum. I honestly believe his card would be worth thousands of dollars to you in this city and Baltimore alone, and make thousands of sober men by inducing the use of your bitters.

J. A. W.

Prevented Fits.

"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by Hop Bitters, that we had poohed at two years before using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer as we did, on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Parents—Good Templars.

Milton, Del., Feb. 10, 1886.

Having used Hop Bitters, the noted remedy for debility, nervousness, indigestion, etc. I have no hesitation in saying that it is indeed an excellent medicine and recommend it to any one as a truly tonic bitters.

Respectfully,
REV. MRS. J. H. ELLGOOD.

Scipio, N. Y., Dec. 1, 1884.

I am the pastor of the Baptist church here and an educated physician. I am not in practice, but am my sole family physician, and advise in chronic cases. Over a year ago I recommended your Hop Bitters to my invalid wife, who has been under medical treatment of Albany's best physicians several years. She has been greatly benefited and still uses the medicine. I believe she will become thoroughly cured of her various complicated diseases by their use. We both recommend them to our friends, many of whom have also been cured of their various ailments by them.

REV. E. R. WARREN.

Cured of Drinking.

"A young friend of mine was cured of an insatiable thirst for liquor that had so prostrated his system that he was unable to do any business. He was entirely cured by the use of Hop Bitters. It allayed all that burning thirst; took away the appetite for liquor; made his nerves steady; and he has remained a steady and sober man for more than two years, and has no desire to return to his cups, and I know of a number of others that have been cured of drinking by it."—From a leading R. R. Official, Chicago, Ill.

THE CHINOOK

Has come and winter has disappeared. Now comes thoughts of a carriage for Baby. The newness this year consists mostly in the finish. When pushing handles took the place of tongues, there was a great stride forward. Since then the steps have been very short and mostly for taste. Running gear as good as can be had. Three kinds of spring—hit every fancy. The finish and form changes, and you can change it still more if you wish. If we cannot please you down stairs, take the elevator to our third floor, and there you can have a carriage made exactly to suit you. We can give you any style of body, any style of spring, any style of wheels, running-gear or top that you desire—build your carriage to your mind, in fact. Can give you a good carriage, wicker body, strong and neat, for $6.50; better ones for $8.50 and $10. From that the price climbs to wherever you say—some first babies take it rather high. As to quality, we mean to be best and think we are. Every part is looked to with care—so are the prices. Look around a little, then come and be convinced that, at the

you will find the largest, best and most complete stock of

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, March 11.—To day was the dullest day in the stock market this week, and while prices were firm throughout most of the day the trading was almost entirely professional, and pending the final outcome of the B & O deal operators were waiting The opening was tame and uninteresting, but firm, and advances were made over last evening's prices ranging from ⅛ to ¼ per cent There was an inclination to heaviness on early dealings but soon disappeared and prices were brought up to a shade above the opening figure The market then grew exceedingly dull but remained firm In the evening there was still less activity and a short period of heaviness was succeeded by a renewal of a steady hardening of values The last hour, however, was accompanied by weakness, and early gains in many cases were completely wiped out, Richmond and West Point being most noticeable for the decline established. Although the market closed on a rally, it was heavy.

Government bonds dull and steady.

The Great Socialist Conundrum.

Philadelphia Times

The land question from the socialist's standpoint How can I get what belongs to my more industrious neighbor without suffering a term of imprisonment for theft.

The Secret of Life.

SCOVILL'S SARSAPARILLA OR BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP, is the remedy for the cure of Scrofulous Taint Rheumatism White Swelling Gout, Goitre, Consumption, Bronchitis Nervous Debility, Malaria, and all diseases arising from an impure condition of the blood Certificates can be presented from many leading Physicians Ministers, and heads of families throughout the land endorsing SCOVILL'S BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP in the highest terms We are constantly in receipt of certificates of cures from the most reliable sources, and we recommend it as the best remedy for above diseases.

Beecher as a Political Apostate

Chicago Tribune.

For some unexplained if not inexplicable reason he reversed his course in the last national campaign Judged by that unfortunate episode in his political life hardly any condemnation would be too severe for him. He not only allied himself with the party always opposed to the principles he had espoused but he signalized his apostasy by being the especial public apologist for the alleged immorality of the chosen leader of the democracy in that campaign—as if having fallen into the sewer, he resolved to roll in its filth

ENGLAND.

YACHT CLUB MEETING.

LONDON, March 11.—The Prince of Wales presided to-day at the annual meeting of the Royal Thames Yacht club The secretary of the club announced that the money for the one thousand guineas prize had already been subscribed in full by ninety members of the club, and that plenty of funds were coming in to make up several prizes which the club desired to offer for additional races during the jubilee season June 14 has been fixed as the date for the starting of the thousand guinea race, and the course laid out is from the more northward up the east coast of England, around Scotland and Ireland to Dover. A complaint made by an American newspaper that the course includes the narrow channels is unfounded the only one in the course being in the English channel which surely is wide enough for all the competitors of the race The commanders of the yachts in the race will be permitted to chose any course they please, so long as they keep the main land on their port.

LONDON NOTES

LONDON March 11.—Lytton Edward Sothern actor son of the late E A Sothern, has died of peritonitis

The Daily News says that the only basis for the reports of dissension in the cabinet is that Goschen favors a sweeping land purchase scheme while his colleagues support a less heroic agrarian reform This difference says the News is in a fair way of being compromised

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS

LONDON, March 11.—At Mentone the shock was the most violent since that of February The walls of many houses were again cracked and mirrors, glassware etc smashed Visitors are again hurrying away from Mentone and the residents are camping out in open air

At Monte Carlo the shock caused a panic in gambling rooms Tables shook violently and the players fled in dismay.

THE ENGLISH SECRETS.

LONDON, March 11.—The Telegraph asserts that the admiralty has trustworthy information that the Russian government received and now has the drawings and papers connected with the British naval designs, which were sold by draughtsman Terry who has just been discharged from employment in the navy yard at Chatham

NO CHARGES

LONDON, March 11.—Lord George Hamilton first lord of admiralty stated in the house of commons this afternoon that no charge or allegation had been made by an admiralty official against the American legation in London or directed against any American newspaper in connection with the recent scandal concerning the sale to foreigners of confidential information by an employe at Chatham navy yards.

POLITICAL DIFFERENCES

LONDON, March 11.—Serious differences on the Irish question have arisen among the conservatives Pressure has been put upon the government not to introduce a new land bill, but to legislate in the direction of land purchase only

SNOW STORM RAGING

LONDON March 11.—Severe snow storms are raging, in the north of England, and in Ireland and Scotland A number of vessels have been obliged to put back for shelter

CANADA.

INTERSTATE RAILROAD TRAFFIC.

MONTREAL March 11.—Traffic Manager Olds has issued the following circular to agents of the Canadian Pacific railway "The enforcement of the provisions of the interstate commerce law will compel the revision and cancellation of all special local rates on commodities shipped from points in Canada to points in the United States Agents will therefore give notice to all who are shipping to the United States on through rates that on and after April 1st, all such through rates will be void Every effort will be made to obtain, as soon as practicable, reasonable rates from American lines from the points of connection with this line to the several markets and distributing centers in the United States with which business is now done by Canadian shippers, and due notice of such rates will be given as soon as they are obtained"

A COURT DECISION

TORONTO Ont., March 11.—The court of the queen's bench to-day decided that any married Canadian citizen, according to the law of bigamy, who crosses the line and marries again in the United States, cannot on his return be prosecuted successfully for bigamy providing he did not leave Canada with the intent to commit offense.

GERMANY.

THE SEPTENNATE BILL PASSES.

BERLIN, March 11.—The septennate bill was read the third time in the reichstag to-day and was passed without debate by a vote of 227 to 31 Eighty four members abstained from voting The announcement of the passage of the bill was received with applause All conservatives and national federals and a few centrists voted with the majority The minority was composed of new German liberals socialists and Alsatians.

THE BULGARIAN REVOLUTION

OFFICERS SHOT

BUCHAREST, March 11.—Advices from Rustchuk say that fourteen commissioned officers who participated in the recent revolt were shot this morning near Rasgrade and that all privates concerned in the revolt have been pardoned

THE WAR CLOUD.

RUSSIA WANTS MORE WARNING

VIENNA March 11.—It is asserted that the Russian government has invited the powers to join in warning the Bulgarian regents against cruelties practiced on insurgent prisoners.

THE SHERMAN BOOM.

Edmunds, Hawley and Ingalls in the Anti-Blaine Combination—The Ohio Senator's Southern Trip.

Senator Sherman attempts to disguise the real object of his southern trip by giving it the appearance of a social jaunt, writes a Washington correspondent of the New York Star He will leave in company with Senators Manderson Palmer, Ransom and Butler and go first to Tampa Fla, and thence to Cuba. Returning to these shores, the party will break up, Mr Sherman and his two republican friends going to Nashville, where the Ohio senator is to deliver a political address. It is a somewhat roundabout way to reach the Tennessee capital, but the senator is playing for great stakes and does no care to appear as boldly taking the field so early in the day

The Sherman campaign in the South is to be conducted in the main by the men who served under him in one capacity or another while he was secretary of the treasury. They organized his campaign in 1880 and are familiar with the territory and requirements of the occasion. They are already boasting of their leader's strength They are claiming Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi Alabama and Georgia and Senator Mahone and John S Wise are pledging Virginia and North Carolina to the column The colored people in the old slave states are a unit, it is asserted, for Sherman.

The situation north of Mason and Dixon's line, if not so flattering is yet full of hope In Indiana, where Blaine injured himself by his letter abandoning his suit against The Indianapolis Sentinel Sherman is second now to Harrison In New York, while it is conceded that Blaine has the call on the Irish vote Sherman is strongest with the Germans Protestants and all of the mugwumps prefer him to any other man likely to be put forward by the party The most complete understanding is said to exist between Edmunds and Sherman by which the latter is assured of substantial recognition in New England Massachusetts, never a Blaine stronghold is being drummed for Sherman while Vermont Mr Edmunds's own state is to be swung in convention by him for the man of his choice

It is thought highly probable, indeed, that Mr Edmunds will lead the delegation from his state to the next republican national convention Gen Hawley is to take good care of Connecticut with the highly flattering prospect of being second on the ticket should Sherman be nominated The movement in the West has been inaugurated by the selection of Mr Ingalls to preside over the senate Mr Sherman was largely instrumental in bringing about that choice and the accomplished Senator from Kansas is said to be deeply sensible of the fact It is intimated that he, too will be a member of the next national convention of his party, and that he will probably be chosen to present the name of Mr Sherman as a candidate for the presidency No man alive could do it more handsomely or effectively and the West would be likely to respond to his eloquence.

The opening gun is to be fired in Tennessee, for the reason that the recent betrayal of his party by Gov. Bob Taylor has filled the republicans of that state with a certain boastful confidence in their ability to carry it. Gov Taylor was elected on a platform which declared distinctly against the Blair bill and yet one of his first acts after being inducted into office was to declare in favor of federal aid to education and put the common schools of the state under the directions of one of the most rabid of the Blair bill democrats He is being vigorously rebuked for his apostasy by the democratic press of the state, and the general opinion is that his career as a democrat is ended

The republicans, therefore, in the hope of profiting by the dissension while it is fresh and rancorous, have arranged to introduce one of their ablest men on the scene and by a specious and judicious presentation of the question try and effect a permanent alliance with the apostate and his adherents.

THE PRICE OF WHEAT

San Francisco Bulletin

A writer in the London Economist finds that since 1872 the consumption of wheat per capita in Great Britain has decreased about 9 8 per cent. In the three years from 1872 to 1874 the consumption averaged 373 pounds for each inhabitant, at a cost of about $9 20. In the three years from 1884 to 1886 the consumption averaged only 337 pounds, costing about $5 60 It is evident that the decrease in consumption would have been still greater but for the drop in price, which made the cost to the consumer 39 per cent. less. This is the result of hard times A like change in a greater or less degree has been going on in continental Europe The reduction in English consumption amounts to about 20 000 000 bushels annually, and in that of the continent to about 70 000,000

Official reports of production in 1886 are at hand for Great Britain, France Germany, Hungary Russia, Italy, India Australia and Canada The aggregate is about 81,000 000 bushels less than in 1885 The United States, however produced 100-000 000 bushels more than in 1885 so that, disregarding possible changes in the yield of minor countries the aggregate for 1886 was about 19 000 000 greater than in 1885. The interesting question to this country is what, if any, increase of foreign demand for wheat may be expected. Low prices favor large exports and the returns show that the exports from the United States for the last six months of 1886 and January, 1887, including flour reduced to terms of wheat, amounted to ... bushels of wheat, against about 45,000,000 for the corresponding period of 1885-86 Considering that the supply outside of the United States is 81 000 000 less than in 1885 it seems reasonable to infer that if prices are not materially raised a further increase of 36 000 000 bushels may occur during the remainder of the crop year and that the total exports for the crop year may reach about 175 000 000 bushels It is known that the surplus for export in this country is about 108 000 000 bushels which would, on the above calculation, leave about 73 000 000 bushels in excess of home demands War in Europe may suddenly change all conclusions

HIGH LICENSE OR PROHIBITION

NEW YORK, March 3.—Rev Dr Howard Crosby, high license champion, and Rev Dr I. K. Funk, prohibition champion wrestled at Delmonico's to-night, after the dinner of the clergymen and laymen of the Baptist union at which the only beverages served were iced water and coffee Dr Crosby got the floor first for high license He went for Dr Funk right off, saying There are two styles of prohibitionists the foolish prohibitionist, like Dr Funk the wise one like Judge Davis The mistake of the foolish prohibitionist is that he puts the drinking of the sale of a glass of liquor on the same plane as stealing Now there is no sin either before God or man in my drinking a glass of wine or my selling a bottle of it to my good brother Funk You can't force a prohibitory law The moment you say to a man You shan't buy a glass of liquor,' or You shan't drink it at that moment the old Adam rises rebel to it in him and he says I will drink, or I will buy'"

Dr Crosby insisted that the claim of the prohibitionists that prohibition had decreased intemperance was an error He urged that high license would reduce the number of saloons and raise the standard of their surroundings He added Even in Chicago with a rum government in power high license has reduced the number of saloons Dr Crosby's parting shot for high license was that it was better to try high license than to wait for several centuries for the coming of the prohibition Utopia of Dr Funk and his associates

Dr Funk arose amid applause to defend prohibition He said "There never will be peace in the American home until the liquor power is broken High license is objectionable because it isn't restrictive It forces the saloons into the hands of brewers and distillers and into politics, too High license doesn't work in practice Instead of reducing the number of saloons it aggravates the evils The politicians are in the control of the saloons and the saloons have now added houses of ill fame and gambling hells to their places of business Where under low license the liquor business said to the father 'Give me your son' under high license it says 'Give me your daughter also' High license in Chicago is a delusion and a fraud I spent two nights visiting the saloons there with a friend after the hour the law said they must be closed to find that out"

Ought to Travel West

Benton Leader Dem

If President Cleveland had ever visited this section the river and harbor bill would have been signed No man ought to be eligible to the presidency of the United States until he has actually traveled from one end of the country to the other from north to south and from east to west Unless he does this and gets a notion of the largeness of his country he will be the president of his own section The trouble with Mr Cleveland is that he has not yet ceased to be governor of New York. Nay there are moments when he almost appears to be mayor of Albany to say nothing about being sheriff of a New York county

Democratic Approval

New York World.

President Cleveland again showed himself capable of correcting a mistake by giving to the river and harbor bill the silent veto which The World yesterday urged him to meted out to it Last year he signed a bad bill appropriating $14,000 000 and containing many jobs This year's bill was passed in an unusually scandalous manner It was not considered by the house, but was simply rushed through The senate added $3 000 000 to it including $50,000 as an entering wedge for the Hennepin canal scheme. The president has done well to save $10 000,000 from the surplus squanderers
